—Miss Battrick, of the public school teaching staff, has been granted leave of absence until Christmas on account of ill health. Until her return her duties will be assumed by Mrs. J. E. Smith, of Strathcona.

—Wednesday night, Hollick's, was passed with scarcely any of the demonstrations indulged in by the rising generation. Through the salutary effect of speedy justice administered by Chief of Police Pattison the perpetrators had the pleasure of personally repairing the damage next morning.

—The Vancouver World announces the arrival there of W. Dillan, from the Livard. Dillan went in by Edmonton during the Klondike rush and recites the usual hard luck story. James Eganall, of the old factors of the H. B. Co. died through the result of an accident. His son was loading a gun in the store and the old man was just walking out of the door when the weapon discharged and the ball struck Eganall in the heel. The wound was a painful one, for the bullet went nearly from end to end of his foot, but it was not thought to be dangerous. But three days later, blood-poisoning set in, and, despite everything that could be done for the old man he died two days after.

—Alba Heywood and his talented company played to a crowded house in Robertson Hall on Friday evening. The entire plan of the hall had been converted into reserved seats. The audience was, if anything, more demonstrative in their expressions of pleasure and appreciation than the one in Strathcona. Mr. Heywood's very clever impersonations were greatly enjoyed. Miss Monroe's violin solos were cleverly executed. Gustave Ulrich, cello-soloist, and Emilie Cole, soprano, clever and talented artists, contributed greatly to the pleasure of an evening of rare enjoyment. The performance throughout was one of unusual excellence and to Manager Robertson much credit is due for his enterprise in guaranteeing and bringing here, out of the beaten path, such a high class company of entertainers.

—A pocket book, containing a number of papers, etc., was picked up on the street to-day and may be reclaimed by the owner on applying at this office.

—David Martin, a farmer residing a mile south of Strathcona, died very suddenly on Friday, from heart disease. He leaves a wife and ten children.

—To-day makes just a month of unbroken delightful weather. Every day has been a glorious one for securing the grain which was delayed in harvesting. The result has been to reduce very greatly the anticipated damage from the late storms.

—P. J. Nolan, of Calgary, returned south Thursday after delivering a series of addresses in the north in the interests of E. B. Bennett's candidature. Mr. Nolan is the eminent criminal lawyer who is retained to assist all evidences out of the difficulties they get into.

—The mica, horses and mining outfit of F. H. Vrooman, who lately returned from the Peace, have been attached by the sheriff at the instance of some of the employees who were engaged with him on the trip, under a claim for wages. The matter was up in the court this morning when the judge ordered the mica to be released in order that Mr. Vrooman might return with it. The horses which are valuable enough to cover the claim are still being held, pending a settlement of the suit. Vrooman leaves in the morning.

Under date of Sept. 28th, Major Snyder, of the Strathconas, writes from the cavalry and Artillery Depot Maitland near Cape Town. Major Snyder was taken ill with fever and invalided to Pretoria and thence to Wynberg hospital. On becoming convalescent he was given charge of details at Cape Town. The detail camp is composed of men from the different Canadian regiments who from sickness, wounds or other causes are not with their regiments. There are also in the camp about a dozen other men from different regiments from all parts of the world. The day after Major Snyder wrote this, Canadian troops were leaving for home, taking 100 Boer prisoners to St. Helena. Only this infantry regiments are returning home. The mounted men have not yet received any word of their return. On his journey from Belfast to Pretoria Major Snyder passed through the mounted rifles but, to his great disappointment, could not get the opportunity of speaking to any of them. He met Lieut. Chalmers in Pretoria. Insp. Macdonald, who was almost fatally wounded by the accidental discharge of his revolver, is at Wynberg hospital, still very ill.

EDMONTON BULLETIN, NOV. 5TH, 1900

"DO BY ME AS I HAVE DONE BY YOU."

Before another issue of the Bulletin goes to press either Frank Oliver or R. B. Bennett, in all human probability, will be the member for Alberta; either the liberal government or the conservative party will control the destinies of Canada for the next four years. The immediate question before the electors is whom do they want as their representative. An election is a particularly serious thing for the people of Alberta, who have so much at stake in the welfare of their district. The aim of the Bulletin has been to discuss the issues at stake in a reasonable and logical manner, not stirring up party prejudice or personal strife to prevent the exercise of calm and dispassionate thought; not by false assertions and petty trivialities to mislead the minds of thinking men from the vital issues which are at stake. For that vital issues are at stake all men must admit. That Alberta has received greater recognition during the last four years than it ever did before all men must also admit. Do you want to go back to the old times? Do you want to cast off the new order of things for the old? Judge governments as you would men—by what they have done, not by what they say they will do. We got the "promise" of a bridge from the late government, we got the fulfillment from the present one. From the late government we got the "promise" of railway competition, from the present government we're getting the fulfillment. Do you want to go back to the days of promise or live in the days of fulfillment? The amendment of home stead laws in the interests of the settler, the increase of the federal grant to the Territories, the reduction of duties, the abolition of land grants to railways, the exploration of the country, the encouragement of oil-boring operations, the release of seed grain bondsmen, the safe guarding of established town sites. The establishment of government creameries, improved mail service, the recognition of the volunteers of '95 to medals and scrip, erection of public works, all stand today at the credit of the present government, and that government is now on trial before the people to know whether these things were good for the west or not, to know whether their policy is approved or condemned. If you vote against the government it means you don't want these laws. Are you going to vote for the indecent party against the definite interests of your district? If the government has done well give them credit. If Frank Oliver has served you well give him credit. His record is known to you. Remember it is not your own interests only that are at stake, but the welfare of your district as well. If you turn out the man who serves you honestly and well it means you don't want honest and faithful representation. If he was honest and able enough to deserve a rabid reception from his constituents at the close of the session of '98, Frank Oliver is not less honest and able now. On Thursday evening, June 23rd, 1898, a public reception was held on the race track, Edmonton, for the purpose of reading to Frank Oliver on his return from Ottawa, three addresses from his constituents, one from South Edmonton, one from St. Albert, and one from Edmonton. Among others on the platform with him then were D. MacLoney, M. L. A., F. Fraser, Times, M. L. A., W. S. Edmiston, mayor of Edmonton, and R. McKernan, president of the South Edmonton agricultural association. The address from the citizens of South Edmonton said:

"We desire to give expression to our sincere appreciation of the marked ability with which you discussed the various questions which affected the Northwest Territories and Alberta in particular, during the past session. Matters arose which were of vast importance not only to Alberta but to the whole of Canada, and we feel that you did your duty and acted in the best interests of the country. You have done more than any other else in placing before the house and country the benefit and advantage to Canada of the oil-boring operations indicated." (All Canadian and water roads) made easy for traffic. You are the representative of one of the most important constituencies in Canada. Many questions will arise in parliament affecting the interests of Alberta, and we feel that we have in you a representative that will express our views honestly, fearlessly and ably, and that you will act in all matters which may come before this house in a way which will tend towards the promotion of the development of Alberta, and the whole of our beloved Canada."

The address of the town of Edmonton was signed by C. Gallagher, president of the board of trade, W. S. Edmiston, mayor, and M. McCauley, M. L. A. In part it said:

"We wish to give expression of our high appreciation of the able manner in which you have performed the important duties which devolved upon you as representative of this portion of the Northwest. We assure you it was with much satisfaction we noted the marked ability with which you took up so many of the important questions which this session came before the house. Among others you mentioned the Territories railway scheme, the C. P. R. monopoly, the culpable neglect of the sick and dying employees at the Crow's Nest Pass, on all of which important questions you rendered a service difficult to overestimate. It is with great pleasure we noted that you were unanimously never before elected that we assure you how very glad we are to welcome you again to our midst, earnestly praying that the blessing of Him by whom Kings reign and princes decree judgment may rest on you forever."

In the address from the residents of St. Albert, and signed by thirty-nine of the leading citizens of that town was stated:

"The electors of the most northern part of your constituency desire to put in this demonstration of the town of Edmonton (of congratulatory nature) and to express their gratitude for your valuable work during last session for the protection of the interests of Northern Alberta and of your district generally. Your labors, your wisdom, your tact and the courage of your opinion you have obtained a point which is rarely seen in any electoral division in the Dominion. Because, although retaining the full confidence of liberals, you have also convinced the conservatives that you are the worthy son of Alberta, and that our interests could not be put in better hands. If we want to see the progress, the prosperity, the welfare of the country, so full of resources of all kinds, we need a man of your experience and ability to lead us in the way before the Dominion of Canada."

The address then went on to say the member's assistance for the procuring of half-breed scrip, and concluded:

"Our population will always be at your disposal if the principles which have animated you in the past stay as firm as your reputation for upright manhood."

The scrip has been issued and the principles are the same in 1900 as they were in 1898. If the addresses were true in '98 they are true to-day. If Frank Oliver was honest and able then, he is honest and able now. Do you want an honest and able member? Do you think the parliament of Canada would be an honest and capable parliament if it were composed of men like Frank Oliver? It would be a good parliament for the country would it not? Do you vote a member whose principles are good is not the way to make a parliament of high moral principle. It is said that Mr. Bennett has all the high principles of Mr. Oliver. Perhaps so, but what would you say to a proprietor discharging a tried and honest clerk in order to experiment with a stranger. If Mr. Bennett has all the principles and ability of Mr. Oliver then there is room in the parliament of Canada for him as well-men of that stamp are not too plentiful—but there are other constituencies and he might fill the seat of some less honest and upright man—not try to supplant a man who was here first and whose honesty and integrity are beyond dispute.

MR. BENNETT AT REGINA.

Mr. Bennett having sought to justify his position on what is known as the "Cooked accounts" scare of the last session of the legislative assembly at Regina, it is interesting to find the facts as set forth in the Regina Leader, a disinterested newspaper. The Leader's opinion of Mr. Bennett, incidentally expressed at the same time, is also interesting and instructive reading. The article requires no comment. In its issue of the 10th, of May the Leader said after giving a brief resume of the finding of the select committee appointed to inquire into the charges contained in the Standard's article, which finding showed that there was not the slightest shadow of truth in the charges:

"Such was the report of the committee appointed to enquire into all this hubbub. The facts of the case lie in a nutshell. In 1896 the representatives from Ottawa to the Northwest government were not as now, in cash, but by letters of credit. For the year ending 31 August 1896 the sum of $45,000 had been voted at Ottawa for the Territories, but up to that date $25,000 only had been received. There were still $20,000 to come. In the printed public accounts the whole of the $45,000 was entered as received, and received it was ultimately and was duly spent as ordered by the Assembly. That is the whole business. It was a piece of irregular book-keeping, that is all. No one pocketed a dollar, not a cent was misappropriated, and the scare-line 'how the Territorial treasurer made $20,000' insinuates a foul and malignant falsehood. There was nothing underhand about the business. Each member of the executive knew - all about it; the Assembly was informed of it by the same session; and there was nothing to 'discover' by the member for East Prince Albert or anyone else. However, the matter was investigated by the public accounts committee last year, and so insignificant was the whole affair considered that it was not deemed worthy of notice and no report has ever been made. Before that committee certain evidence was given by the Territorial Auditor, and its substance published in the newspapers at the time. The other day, that is four years after the event, and one year after the matter had been fully investigated, a copy of that evidence was supplied the Standard newspaper and, with the date carefully suppressed, appeared with a batch of flagrant scare lines as though something new and nefarious had just been discovered. The Standard's not usually a very behind with its news, and what is alone surprising is the outlandishness of a pretty sharp editor in allowing himself to be bamboozled by having foisted upon him as something new, and startling a mere irregularity from which no one had suffered; which had been public property for a year, was dead, and had been decently buried and forgotten a long time ago. May's nests are occasionally found and lead to unpleasantness that generally ends in amusement. Here there is not even the vestige of a nest. The parrot-like mimicry that brought forth a muscular abortion did not cut a more ridiculous figure."

The affair would not be worth another word but for recent incidents in regard to the matter. In the first place the copy of a public document was taken from the government offices and given to a newspaper. Someone committed an offence against public policy, if the sanctity of our government's archives can be so easily invaded. There is no saying what may be misused, lost or stolen. The act was nefarious; and it was the duty of every member of the legislature to do his utmost to discover the delinquent. Loyalty to the trust imposed in them as guardians of the Northwest Territories should have prompted this course; respect for the dignity of their position demanded the exercise of the fullest powers they possess to fix the blame on the proper parties. Above all others it was the duty of Mr. Bennett to follow such a course. The member for West Calgary has taken so prominent a part since he has been in the legislature that it would be mock modesty for him to deny that he aspires to the highest position the Territories can offer. He, therefore, did all others ought to be most jealous of an act that reflects discredit, we had almost written dishonor, on some portion of the management of our public affairs. Unfortunately Mr. Bennett could not do this. Why? Because, if not himself the actual delinquent, he was an accessory, he was particeps criminis. We do not say that Mr. Bennett stole the document, or that he garbled it; but we do say that he obtained it. This can be said on his own authority, because with a political appearance of voluntarism, he admitted, after a strong application of the thumb screw, that he gave the document to the Standard newspaper, and he is anxious that it should be known it was the document, the full and complete document, because on Thursday night he explained that the report of the committee stated that he had given certain statements, to the newspaper, whereas, he declared with emphasis, it was a full and complete copy of the auditor's evidence.

The unfortunate position occupied by Mr. Bennett explains his conduct during the whole of the affair. His bumptious solicitude for the editor of the Standard, who he declared was being tried behind his back by a Star Chamber tribunal; his tirades about unfairness, oppression and injustice, all in regard to the persecuted newspaper editors all this was mere bluff. The solicitude of the member for West Calgary was in behalf of nobody but R. B. Bennett. The justifiable vituperation on liberty and so forth was nothing more than an attempt to draw off attention from his own conduct, and to smother in a cloud of words the act of which he knew, all the time he had been guilty, and which he knew also had resulted in malicious defamation and malignant libel. Mr. Bennett confessed he had procured and given away the document. But he should have gone further. Mr. Bennett is a lawyer and knows what perjury is; he is a man, with a conscience we will assume, and he knows of what he has been guilty. Mr. Bennett, when he admitted having obtained the document should have also confessed where (Continued on page 6)

HARVEST FESTIVAL AT SPRUCE GROVE.

The Spruce Grove Methodist church held a very successful harvest festival on Oct. 1st to raise funds for the church debt. Luncheon was served at 8 p. m., after which a very excellent programme was rendered. The senior and juvenile glee clubs of Spruce Grove under the direction of Mrs. J. Wier Brighton, Denver, Colorado, rendered very choice selections. The spirit of loyalty ran very high stimulated no doubt by the decorations which consisted of the products of our great Northwest interspersed with evergreens draped prettily with Red, White and Blue and with Union Jacks. Proceeds of festival about $35.

BEAVER LAKE EAST.

Some grain is uncut yet, and a small area will remain so. This has been one of our worst years, and it is to be hoped that another like it will not occur again for at least half a century. Though there is some good the bulk of it is of poor quality.

Beaver Creek, the outlet of the lake, is running again, after a rest of 11 years.

Game has been plentiful this fall, and, as the bad roads kept most of our sports away, our local sports have had some good shooting.

John D. McAllister's thresher is at work here. Some of the grain is very hard to thresh. The yield, as was to be expected, is discouraging.

Oct. 25, '00.

FROM GREAT SLAVE LAKE.

A letter from a correspondent states: Mining on Great Slave lake is still at a stand still; there are one or two would-be miners left but they are making enough to pay their expenses home, like Christians.

Treaty has been paid at Resolution and the Indians got $12 per head all around. Of course, being their first experience with "the root of all evil" they managed to leave it all at the Fort in exchange for a fine plaid shawl woven in different colors, hats, garters, sashes, checked trousers, shirts, English boots, canned milk, flour, sugar, tobacco, etc., besides divers and sundry other things. Didn't the maidens of the village cut a dash—Wah-wah, I think so, each trying to outdo the other in splendor.

Wm. Connor is expected to start out soon again for civilization.

BOER TREACHERY.

Corp. John Bousfield, of "C" Squadron, Strathcona's Horse, writes to his father, J. H. Bousfield, of Toronto, from Vlaasklaagte: "I came very near being shot, or taken prisoner, a week ago. A party of Boers sent word into our camp that they wanted to surrender, and as they said they were afraid to come in alone, fifteen men of my troop in command of Lt. White Fraser and Sergeant Parker, were sent to fetch them. Haines, McDuff, Walter West and myself, with four camp-fires, and two guides, scouted in advance of the troops. We came to a house, in which the Boers' white flag was flying. We did not suspect treachery. I was about 50 yards off, from a volley of rifle fire came from all sides. The guides shouted: 'We are in a trap,' and urged us to fly. One bullet struck my stirrup and broke it, and another the ramrod of my rifle, but I was unharmed. We got through the Boers some way, but when we counted noses, there were two missing. Back we fought our way, without loss, and found Sergt. Parker shot through the heart. We could learn nothing of Arnold, the other missing man. We returned to camp and next morning volunteers were called for to go out and find Arnold. Three other men and myself offered, and after a long search discovered him in a Boer house wounded in the knee, from which he has since died. We were just leaving the house when the Boers came out, and we thought our time had come, but were prepared to fight to the last. The enemy hoisted a white flag and intimated we could take Arnold away with us. The next morning we went in force and took away the Boer women and children and burned the house. The Boers renewed the attack and 17 Boers were killed."

WAR NOTES.

Arrangements have been made to despatch 270 Boer women from Pretoria and the district to the Boer lines. These women are practically fed by the British, while their husbands are marring and sniping.

The German missionary, Prozesky, has been found guilty at Newcastle on all the charges of treason—treason against him. The judge, remarking that the accused, having taken the oath of allegiance, was as much liable to all the penalties for treason as a native-born subject of her Majesty, sentenced him to twelve months' imprisonment and a fine of £500, and falling the payment of the fine a further period of nine months' imprisonment.

Van Post, an influential burgher belonging to Pretoria, has obtained permission to proceed to the Orange River Colony for the purpose of seeing De Wet and of representing to him the absurdity of continuing the struggle.

The refugees committee to-day called a statement to Colonial Secretary Chamberlain regarding the continued delay in granting permission to refugees to return to the Transvaal. Upon receipt of a reply a mass meeting will be held by the refugees, who are daily becoming more discontented because of the continued refusal of the authorities to permit them to return to their homes.

Lord Roberts' telegram the war office that he expects to leave for England on Nov. 16. He also says that General Buller is expected to reach Heidelberg to-morrow, and that Colonel Lytton has captured Field Cornets Doornen and DeBeer.

SPEAKS FOR ITSELF.

Souris, Man., Oct. 9.—The following announcement was made to-day: "The independent executive, having been present at the meeting between Sir Herbert Truiper and Hon. Clifford Sifton, held in Brandon Saturday evening, Oct. 13, and having heard both these gentlemen fully regarding Yukon matters, and having heard the apology of Sir Charles Truiper for charges made against Mr. Sifton and Mr. Philip, we are instructed by it to strongly advise the electors to use their vote and influence for the election of the Hon. Clifford Sifton."

(Sgd.) JOSEPH YOUNG,
Pres. Independent Assn.
(Sgd.) T. A. M. HUGHES,
Secretary.

MR. OLIVER AND CREAMERIES.

We wonder if any intelligent elector yet needs an explanation of this question. Mr. Oliver voted against a catch motion of Mr. Davin's; but he voted for the grant proposed by the government itself. That is he voted against a useless resolution and he supported a proposition of the government when made in the proper way and at the proper time a proposition which preserved the rights of private parties and still provided government aid to the creamery business.—Albertan.

WHO MAY VOTE.

The following is the qualification of electors as prescribed by the parliament of Canada:
Every male person shall be qualified to vote at the election of a member under this act who, not being an Indian, is a British subject and of the full age of twenty-one years, and has resided in the Northwest Territories for at least twelve months, and in the electoral district for at least three months immediately preceding the issue of the writ of election.

If any elector finds that his name is not on the voters' list of the polling division to which he belongs, he may apply to the returning officer, not later than two days before the polling day, to have his name added to the said list.

Each elector may vote only at one polling station and for one candidate within the same electoral district.

The elector will go into one of the compartments and with a black lead pencil there provided place a cross in the white space containing the name of the candidate for whom, he votes, thus X.

The elector shall then fold the ballot paper so as to show a portion of the back only, with the initials of the deputy returning officer thereon and the number on the counterfoil, and also in such a manner as to permit the counterfoil to be detached without unfolding the ballot paper; he shall then return the ballot paper so folded to the deputy returning officer, who shall place it in the ballot box, after having detached the counterfoil. The elector shall then forthwith quietly leave the polling station.

If an elector inadvertently spoils a ballot paper he may return it to the proper officer, who, on being satisfied of the fact, will give him another.

If an elector votes for more candidates than he is entitled to vote for, or places any mark on the ballot paper by which he can afterwards be identified, his vote will be void, and will not be counted.

If an elector takes a ballot paper out of the polling station or fraudulently puts into the ballot box any other paper than the ballot paper given him by the deputy returning officer, he will be subject to be punished by fine of five hundred dollars or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months, with or without hard labor.

PROPOSED WATERWORKS.

At Tuesday's council meeting a proposition was read from G. H. Barnard, of Victoria, B. C., contained in a letter to T. W. Lines, regarding waterworks system here. Mr. Barnard recently visited the district and states that: "I took occasion to go casually into the matter, and feel so thoroughly satisfied that the prospects for your city and district are bright, that I came to the conclusion that the scheme might be put through." Mr. Barnard suggests, as no suitable estimate has ever been made, that a competent engineer be engaged to go over the ground and make proper estimates and details. He suggests further that in the event of an agreement not being ultimately arrived at, that the town should take the plans etc. off his hands and reimburse him for such outlay which is not to exceed 1,000. A special meeting was held Thursday for further discussion when it was moved: "That this council is in favor of accepting the proposition submitted by Mr. Barnard, and a committee consisting of the mayor and Councillors, Jackson, McLeod and Goodridge prepare a draft agreement for submission to the council at next meeting."

There is one subject on which the Queen is generally believed to have strong opinions. This is the management of the war office during the campaign, and especially the publication of the "Spion Kop" despatches, which met with her disapproval.

MR. BENNETT AT REGINA.

and how it came into his possession. If it were by fair means there was no occasion to hide the fact; if by foul or unparliamentary means, and he declines to print out his fellow conspirator, then for the reasons above stated, he is unworthy of the confidence of any constituency; unworthy, indeed, unless he can discover more respect for the position he holds and is more jealous of the honor of those he represents. Mr. Bennett is at the threshold of his career, and he stands there with a tarnished reputation.

There is one other point. On Thursday night, the assembly, weary of the whole business, decided to wind it up, by a vote of 10 to 9, in the report summarized above in this first paragraph. The house was to be prorogued next day, and would not listen to Mr. Bennett's proposal to adjourn the matter for two days. Why should it, when the very reason the report was brought in so late was that it had been held back two days to enable Mr. Bennett to go to Calgary to conduct (and win) a case in the courts? How did Mr. Bennett receive this common sense decision of the house? With a petulant boast he declared "That I'll speak for three hours" and, as he did. There was no sense of duty about this. It was pure spite. What he meant was "If you won't let me play in your back yard, you shall not play at all. I will make you sit up all night"—and he did. It was half past nine at night when he started; it was two o'clock in the morning when the obstructive business was completed and the house rose. This policy of petulance was not edifying. Mr. Bennett had nothing to say, but yet with wearisome iteration he went through the evidence, garbling his recitals with quibble after quibble. There was neither soul nor sincerity in a single sentence he uttered. He proved nothing, he had nothing to prove; he disproved nothing, he could not. His address was but a budget of quibbles; clever some of them, but still quibbles, and it was not until he had exhausted the vocabulary of his Barbauldian balderdash that, worn out, he resumed his seat. Premier Hamilton has more than once congratulated Mr. Bennett on his "enviable fluency." To us the gift seems anything but enviable when it is abused that quibbles become the pole star of policy, and exuberant verbosity the vehicle of its pronouncement. However, the point we wish to make is that if the rules of debate in the Northwest assembly permit this sort of thing, then the rules are faulty. No one wishes to curtail the liberty of speech. Least of all do the members of a government, because of necessity they occupy more time in making speeches than any of the other members of a legislature. When, however, it is the evident sense of the house that a member is trifling or that he is speaking against time for his own particular purposes, then in other parliaments there is a quick and effective way of stopping such silly proceedings. The newly formed opposition has shown great solicitude as to whether the members of the executive spend their time with profit to the country in return for the remuneration they receive. We can hardly imagine that having to sit up all night listening to a harangue about nothing at all is the best way to employ the time of those that the opposition think are amply paid; and if Mr. D. H. McDonald and his followers resist the government to run a stop to such sort of thing, they may perhaps be forgiven the part they have played in the mischievous farce in which Mr. Bennett and the editor of the Standard have been mountebanking with such impudent persistency.

SUCCESSFUL SERIES OF MEETINGS.

Meetings in the interests of F. Oliver were held at Victoria, Whitford, Edna, and Partridge Hills. Despite the busy season, most farmers being engaged either in harvesting or threshing, good audiences turned out at each place. The meetings were unanimously enthusiastic in expressions of satisfaction with Mr. Oliver's record and loyalty to his candidature and Victoria district may be relied on for a substantial majority on Wednesday.

OUT FROM GREAT SLAVE LAKE.

John Kelly, of Edmonton, chief engineer of the steamship Eva (formerly the Sparrow) returned Thursday after a lengthy sojourn at Great Slave Lake and other northern points. He was accompanied by Chas. Bramman, S. Rowland, John Savard, Wm. Macdonnell and Wm. Tipton. They came by steamer to Fort Smith and thence tracked up to the Landing, the trip occupying 23 days. The Eva made a trip down the Mackenzie, and proved herself a strong seaworthy craft. Mr. Kelly was bringing out samples of wheat, oats and barley grown at St. Peter's mission, Hay River, but they were lost on the way. The grain was a 2 A 1 sample, the barley, Mr. Kelly states, being the best sample he ever saw. The vegetable crop also was good at the mission. The season was dry and pleasant. A little snow fell on the 28th September. John Peckitt is at Fort Smith. W. Patton, trader, will come on; this winter by dog team. W. H. Connors is building another steamer at Fort Smith. Moose are very plentiful. A number were shot by Mr. Kelly's party. The trouble and bloodshed between American and Canadian traders, which was reported in the press to have occurred near Great Slave Lake did not occur and the story was entirely without foundation.

POLITICAL MEETINGS.

The following political meetings were held last week:

MEETING AT CREUSOT.

A meeting was held at the Creusot school house in the interests of Mr. Bennett Friday night. There were about 50 electors present. Mr. Bennett was represented by Mr. Fournier of Montreal, while F. Villeneuve, M. L. A., represented Mr. Oliver. Owing to very unsatisfactory arrangements the meeting was not called to order till 8:30.

Mr. Fournier spoke first and in the course of a passionate address referred to the Manitoba school question as a factor in the coming election and asked all electors present to join hands and dismiss from power a government who had not kept its pledges on the great question. He also spoke on federalism of all colonies and accused the liberal party of betraying Canada, in giving to Great Britain preferential trade. He attacked severely Hon. Mr. Tarte for the enormous expenditure throughout the country and sat down amidst profound silence.

Mr. F. Villeneuve followed in reply and in a short time demolished absolutely the statements made by the speaker. He thought that the school question was out of federal politics and if Mr. Fournier was not more Catholic than the Pope himself he should not discuss this question in the excitement of an election. In fact the Catholic population of Manitoba had a position in school matters which allowed them to live and develop, and Sir Wilfrid Laurier had done more to attain this end than all the conservative governments from '78 to '96. Referring to Fournier's statements that imperial federation would be the extinction of the French-Canadian population in Canada Mr. Villeneuve said that Mr. Fournier should know better than that and that under British institutions all races, all creeds enjoy the same freedom and liberties. Mr. Villeneuve answered in a few words to the charges of corruption and maladministration of the liberal party and reviewed all the Laurier government had done for Western Canada, in amending the regulations for homestead entries, and duties, the hay and timber regulations, the chartering of new railways to give us competition with the C. P. R., the opening of new markets, the reduction of freight rates on existing lines, and this government Mr. Oliver had supported and therefore he deserved their unanimous support. Mr. Villeneuve was very lengthy in his remarks and his address made a very favorable impression. Mr. Oliver will carry Creusot solid.

MEETING AT LAMOURÉUX.

A meeting called in the interests of R. B. Bennett was held at Lamoureuxville on Friday. Mr. Fournier, of Montreal, supported Mr. Bennett and Mr. Oliver was ably represented by Mr. F. Marlaggi. The meeting was very short, lasting just one hour, but during half of this time Mr. Fournier spoke of the Manitoba school question, and of imperial federation in resounding generalities.

Mr. Marlaggi ably replied to the orator from the east, who had come specially to enlighten the electors of the Grand West. The school question of Manitoba was out of the field of federal politics and should remain there. Mr. Marlaggi enlightened Mr. Oliver's course in the last parliament and it would be a calamity to this western country if Mr. Bennett, the friend of monopolies, was returned.

MR. OLIVER AT STRATHOONA.

Plaindealer! It was a great meeting that of Oliver's in Ross Hall on Monday night. The house was well filled. There were a few vacant chairs at the front, but as many standing electors at the back and it was an enthusiastic gathering. Quite a number of ladies were present. Mr. A. C. Rutherford, president of the Strathcona Liberal Association, called the meeting to order. As Mr. Oliver had not yet arrived when the hour for the evening drew near, Mr. Cross, president of the Edmonton Liberal Association, was called upon to speak and occupied the time profitably until Mr. Oliver came. As Mr. Oliver entered the hall he was greeted with great applause and again when he rose to speak. His reply to Mr. Daykin was one of the greatest speeches he has ever given and was certainly the best Strathcona people ever heard from him. The enthusiasm of the audience increased as Mr. Oliver drove home the arguments that nailed the accusations of disloyalty against Mr. Tarte, and when the speaker sat down his hall was cheered to the echo that was fairly deafening. It was "Oliver's meeting, and no mistake."

CLOVER BAR MEETING.

The Plaindealer has the following report:
On Wednesday evening last Mr. Bennett held a meeting of the electors at Clover Bar. Mr. A. L. Sifton was present and addressed the meeting in the interests of Mr. Oliver. Mr. Sifton was voted to the chair by the audience. Mr. Bennett was harassed with questions from those present and his position sometimes made a little uncomfortable. One man wanted to know his attitude on school question and what he would do if the house again. It was an awkward question for a supporter of Sir Charles to answer in a "Protestant community" and the audience did not get much satisfaction. Mr. Sifton made an excellent speech, which was well received by the audience. A number of friends of Mr. Bennett from both Edmonton and Strathcona were out. (We understand that when the proper time for cheers came the townspeople gave them for Mr. Bennett and the Bar people for Oliver.)

POPULAR LAKE MEETING.

A meeting in the interests of Mr. Bennett was called at Popular Lake school house Saturday evening. Nineteen electors of the district were present. Mr. Oliver spoke first, and half of Mr. Bennett and Mr. Reilly of Calgary for Mr. Oliver. J. W. Kelly of Edmonton, accompanied Mr. Reilly out. Mr. Oliver opened the meeting referring to the first parliament of Canada. He touched on the broken promises, Yukon administration, the surplus of eight million, which he claimed, showed that the country had been governed unwisely. The present government was clinging to the conservative policy.

Mr. Reilly was greeted with the first applause of the evening on raising to speak and when he asked for the support of the electors of Popular Lake on behalf of Frank Oliver, Mr. Reilly had visited Ottawa during a late session and in visiting the different departments discovered that Mr. Oliver had a reputation among them of when he came after any thing for the farmers of Alberta, not leaving them alone until he got what he wanted or was satisfied it was impossible to procure. Mr. Reilly's address was a very able one and he received much applause. Mr. Oliver closed the meeting with a 15 minutes address. The meeting lasted only a little over an hour, and broke up with hearty cheers for Mr. Oliver. Two Bennett men who were in one corner attempted to raise a cheer for the opposition candidate but the attempt was abortive and died in its infancy.

ST. ALBERT MEETING.

Fatrell's Hall, St. Albert, was crowded on Saturday night to hear the discussion on the political questions of the day. About 150 persons were present at the meeting which was presided over by D. Maloney, ex-M. L. A. Mr. Fournier, of Montreal, was present in the interests of Mr. Bennett while Mr. F. Oliver was represented by F. Villeneuve, M. L. A. Mr. Fournier in a passionate speech denounced the liberal administration, its unfaithfulness to its pledges made when they were in opposition, denounced the plebiscite, the settlement of the school question, blamed the liberal party for not wiping out entirely the tariff as promised in 1896. The speaker did not seem to be well posted on western questions and several times during his speech had to retract several statements made by him.

Mr. Villeneuve replied to Mr. Fournier and made a telling speech, proving to the electors present that the government had fulfilled its promises to the electors and that the change of administration in 1896 had benefited the whole of Canada, but most particularly the western country. He referred to the changes in the regulations for homestead, timber and hay to the discharge of the grain bondsmen liability, to the Crown's New Pass railway, which opened a market for all Alberta could produce, to the efforts of the government to give cheap railway transportation and freight facilities to the farmer, to the government which was to create competition and to give to all the Saskatchewan valley railway communication with the rest of the world. The speaker said that the people of Manitoba, although there was no final settlement, had a living position under which they could develop. He mentioned the stance of the dress presented to Mr. Oliver in June 1898 signed by all the citizens of St. Albert, approving of the political conduct of Mr. Oliver in that sense of common and created great laughter in reading the names signed to the address which comprised the names of all the prominent conservatives of the place. Mr. Villeneuve made a complete refutation of the charges of corruption and at the end of the meeting three rousing cheers were given for the popular candidate, Frank Oliver. St. Albert will give a rousing majority to Mr. Oliver.

MORINVILLE MEETING.

At Morinville on Wednesday, the 31st Oct., Mr. J. Reilly, of Calgary, and C. de W. MacDonald, of Edmonton, held a most successful meeting in the interests of Mr. Frank Oliver. Both speakers spoke in English and French. All Spink's day, after divine service, there was a great gathering of electors and friends. Mr. Reilly delivered an able and fluent speech in French, being accorded a most courteous hearing. While at Morinville, Reilly met and was greeted by many old friends whom he had known in Quebec. Mr. MacDonald addressed the German speakers, in German at some length. By their enthusiasm they expressed their support of Mr. Oliver. Judging from the demonstration at the end of the meeting, two thirds of the electors there will support Mr. Oliver. The same night at Glenavary Mr. Reilly held another meeting, speaking in English, and was very heartily applauded in the points he made. Mr. Beck, on behalf of Mr. Bennett also spoke at considerable length. Mr. Reilly replied in a few well chosen Scotch stories which covered all the points brought up, remarking that after listening for an hour in the best of English something in the way of a policy that would be of service to the country they had heard nothing but the old cow bell of fault finding. Another meeting was held by Mr. Reilly at St. Pierre, on Friday. The meeting was not as large as the others, but the feeling was unanimous in support of Mr. Oliver.

STONY PLAIN CENTRE MEETING.

Thirty-nine electors of the district gathered at Stony Plain Centre school on Thursday evening to hear Frank Oliver. Mr. Oliver spoke at some length giving a clear explanation of the political situation. He was accompanied by a most attentive hearing and was frequently interrupted by applause. No one appeared on behalf of Mr. Bennett. Those present, with only one exception, expressed themselves as supporters of Mr. Oliver.

AGRICOLA MEETING.

Mr. Oliver addressed a meeting at Agricola on Saturday evening. About fifty of the electors of Agricola were present and accorded the speaker an attentive hearing. The focus of the meeting was unanimously in Mr. Oliver's
